ReSearch Pharmaceutical Services, Inc.
Board Changes

ReSearch Pharmaceutical Services, Inc. ("RPS"), a leading provider of integrated clinical development outsourcing solutions to the bio-pharmaceutical industry, announces that it has accepted the resignations of Dennis Smith and Ed Yang, who have notified the Board of their desire to reprioritize their other business interests. Such resignations will take effect from 6 December 2007.

Commenting on the Board Changes, Dan Perlman, CEO, said:

"We accept with regret the resignations of Dennis Smith and Ed Yang, who have been instrumental in bringing RPS to the public markets. We would like to thank them for their valuable contribution in this regard and wish them both every success going forward."

The Board continues in its search for a further independent non-executive director and expects to make an appointment in the near future.
